The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

AFTER THE LYNCHERS.

A special term of Union county, N. C. Supreme Court reconvened at Monroe, yesterday for the trial of nineteen white men charged with participating in the lynching of John V. Johnson, white, at Wadesboro, on May 28:

Judge Thomas S. Shaw presided.

When the grand jury had been called in to the box and asked the usual questions as to taxes, etc., Judge Shaw said:

"It is a matter of common knowledge, gentlemen, that this is a special term of the court, called for the trial of citizens of Anson county, charged with lynching. If any of you have formed or expressed an opinion of guilt or innocence of the defendants hold up your hands."

"The reason I have asked these questions, gentlemen, is that from newspaper reports I learn that parties have been in this county seeking to mold public opinion, either for or against the defendants, and I want to know if any of you gentlemen have been approached on the subject."

In charging the grand jury Judge Shaw said:

"There is no reason why we should deal with this question with gloved hands. I had just as well face it squarely. The charge against these men overshadows all other charges on the dokcet, and I dont know what else is on the docket."

He emphasized then the oath they had taken and said the only escape for the guilty men is through perjury. So help h'm God, he declared to the jury, if justice should miscarry in this case, he (the judge) would not be responsible for it. He described the lynchers of Johnson as a mob of cowards, and satirized their claim to good citizenship; he warned the jury against improper influences, and said that the issue was clearly drawn between law and lawlessness, and that the men who participated in the mob "are guilty of murder in the first degree."

At the conclusion of the charge the grand jury retired to consider the indictment against the alleged lynchers.

At the afternoon session four true bills were returned, and one not a true bill, five clases being considered so far.

Motion to quash the indictments was made and argued, and decision will be rendered today when court convenes. If the motion is denied the trial of Zeke Lewis will be taken up.

It is evident that the case will be hard fought. The trial is being held in Union county, having been removed from Anson the county in which the lynching occurred.

Aeronaut's Thrilling Adventure.

Leo Stevens, an aeropaut, together with James Hare and Charles Levee, the latter a noted French balloonist, met with an accident yesterday afternoon that imperiled their lives. Their balloon, which had sailed over New York bay and across Manhattan, dropped into the water near the Long Island sound shore off College Point, and the three men were hurled headlong into the water.

The opportune presence of a sloop, which was fouled by the balloon's big sea anchor, which it had been the intention of Mr. Stevens to test, probably saved the lines of the two aeronauts and their photographer, Hare.

Driven first one way and then another by high winds after the start at Stapleton, S. I., the big air craft crossed over toward Flushing, and then was sent whirling toward College Point. For some reason it descended suddenly when just off the Long Island shore, the anchor becoming entangled on the sloop. All three of the occupants were hurled headfirst into the shallow water, but were soon landed on the sloop by deckhands. The balloon and the aeronauts were brought over to a landing at One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street. A strong southwest wind was blowing when the balloon began to ascend, and it was carried into a tree. The three men in the basket were hurled to one side, and narrowly escaped being thrown out. After clearing the tree the basket then came in contact with a pulley line, running from the rear of a house on Bay street to a tall pole. The weight of the basket snapped the rope and the basket just missed hitting the big pole. A moment later the basket was flung up against the side of a two-story flathouse on Bay street. When freed from the house the balloon was caught by a strong breeze and carried in a northeasterly direction, and was soon rising rapidly, the three men waving good-by to the large crowd that had gathered to see them start.

Death of Alfred Beit.

Alfred Beit, the well-known South African financier, died in London yesterday, as stated in the Gazette of that day. He was born in 1853, at Hamburg.

Mr. Beit was one of the richest men in England, being worth $35,000,000 to $50,000,000, yet he was seldom seen in public, and was hardly known outside of the circles of scientific finance. He controlled the output and price of the world's diamond industry, had a great distaste for notoriety, was very popular with his intimates, and was usually referred to as "the little man."

Mr. Beit, who was a stanch friend of Cecil Rhodes, arrived in South Africa several years ahead of the latter, and when he died was by far the largest individual owner of mines and lands in South Africa.

He was a life governor of the DeBeers Consolidated Mines, a partner in the firm of Wernhers, Beit & Co., and a director of the Rand Mines, Rhodesia Railways, Bechuanaland Railway Trust, Consolidated Company, Bultfonte Mine and British Chartered South African Company.

He was accused of financing the Jameson raid. Later a suit was brought against Mr. Beit on the ground of complicity in the raid, and his prosecution was demanded by Dr. Loyd, the representative of the Transvaal in Europe, and in 1896 his resignation from the board of directors of the British Chartered South African Company was accepted.

When Cecil Rhodes died, in 1902, it was found that Mr. Beit was appointed one of his executors, and Mr. Beit thereupon returned to the board of directors of the British Chartered South African Company. Early in 1903 Mr. Beit had an apoplectic stroke while at Johannesburg and it appears that he never fully regained his health. Since that time he had lived in London.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 17, 1906.

THE ACTION of Judge Shaw, of the Supreme Court of Union county, N. C., in arraigning twenty lynchers on a charge of murder in the first degree will be read with satisfaction by all good citizens. The judge realizes that the time has come when this disgrace to modern civilization should be taken by the horns and summarily dealt with, no matter who the guilty parties may be or to whom related or by whom begotten. It is said that previous to the flood the world was filled with violence. Should mob law continue to overspread the land antediluvian conditions may be reproduced in the advanced evening of the world's history. Lynchings have of late become as common as elopements, and those who participate in them feed upon the excitement incident thereto as they would in fox chases or coon hunts. When fiends are captured and the evidence is clear the full penalty of their crimes will be demanded by a legal tribunal. Should justice miscarry, there might be some extenuation for mob law. But while this is possible, it is extremely improbable, especially in this southern country. Therefore, everything should be done decently and in order. It is hoped Judge Shaw's action will be followed in all places where irresponsible people take the law into their own hands.

WITH every one of the fifteen shipyards on the Delaware river front crowded with work, the shipbuilding industry of Philadelphia is experiencing a period of prosperity hitherto unknown. Never before have there been so many vessels of great variety under contract or in process of construction atone time, and the value of vessels on the stock's is immense. From the construction of the largest battleship for the United States navy to the building of pontoons for sustaining pipes for suction dredges, activity runs the whole gamut of the shipbuilding industry, and includes in its scope types of every craft afloat. So great is the boom that many contracts for new vessels have been refused because the builders cannot agree to get them out as promptly as the owners want them. Notwithstanding all of which the ship subsidy men say that the government must pay them a big subsidy out of the public treasury, or else shipbuilding in the country will cease!

IN the calculation of the great advance in cost from about $22 a ton (export price) for steel to nearly $400 for the finished armor-plate for ships of war the trust has omitted one important but invisible factor—the expense of the Washington lobby. The monopoly of the manufacture of armor-plate would have been of small benefit to the great Homestead-Bethlehem combination if war ships had not been authorized at every session of Congress to consume the product. Hence the necessity of maintaining an expensive lobby to persuade wavering Representatives and Senators of the wisdom and patriotism of swelling the naval force for defense of the country's shores against an imaginary foe. Nothing, therefore, could be more simple than this business formula—the more ships of war the more armor-plate and the larger the profits of the trust.

A DISCOVERY of a startling character has recently been made in the Treasury Department. A shortage of unknown amount, aggregating not less than $31,000, technically attributable to an official under the immediate supervision of the Secretary of the Treasury, has been unearthed, despite the fact that this official has been dead for five months and that his accounts had been subjected to several auditings and declared correct. The officials charged with investigating this situation are still in the dark as to the real culprit. The fact that such a defalcation could occur in the United States Treasury and remain undetected for this length of time naturally gives rise to anxiety and a feeling of insecurity, and this may be another case of putting the blame on the dead man.

AS STATED yesterday, Alfred Beit, the richest man in London, is dead. He had the use for several years of a large part of the gold produced in South Africa, but his end has come; he could take none of the Witwatersrand metal or the Kimberley diamonds with him. He is the third of the great South Africans to go. Barney Barnato committed suicide at sea. Cecil Rhodes, to whom wealth was only incidental and who really had grand visions of empire, and whose fine intellectual tastes never deserted him, left educational endowments of which many American students are the beneficiaries. His vision was not only for an English Africa, but for an Anglo-American confederation that should guarantee the peace and progress of the world.

Gambling is carried on in the Panama canal zone to such an extent that it rivals Monte Carlo. Some of the canal employes have lost all their earnings, have borrowed money at high rates of interest, lost this, and have pledged three months' salary to square up their gambling debts. This is the condition of affairs existing on the isthmus, according to James E. Smith, for six months editor of the Panama Journal, who has just arrived in Washington.

The Comptroller of the Currency announces that the First National Bank, of Leesville, Louisiana, which was declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver on November 24, 1905, having complied with the conditions imposed by the Comptroller of the Currency precedent to resumption, and its capital stock being now unimpaired, has today been permitted to reopen its doors for business as an active national banking association.

Good old-fashioned American dried apples would sell "like sixty" in Brazil, is the opinion of Consul-General George E. Anderson, at Rio de Janerio. The Brazilians have been buying loads of preserved and dried fruits, but all of them have been purchased from European countries. The consul-general cannot see why, with a representative of American fruit interests in the field, that America cannot secure the bulk of this trade.

That a national ice trust exists, with headquarters in New York and branches in practically every large city in the United States, is the belief of high officials of the Department of Justice. It is said that the matter has been called to the attention of Attorney General Moody personally by District Attorney Jerome, of New York. No steps have been taken to attack the trust except in the District of Columbia, where officials of the American Ice Company are under indictment for entering into an unlawful agreement to control prices in the District. The district attorney here is of the opinion that if the trust is to be energetically attacked, it will have to be in New York, and that the Department of Justice might take an interest in such a proceeding. "As far as I know," said Solicitor General Hoyt, who is acting attorney general, "no steps against the ice trust are now in contemplation. It is possible, however, that the attorney general may have had his attention called to the matter without my knowledge." Assistant Attorney General Purdy, to whom matters pertaining to trust litigations are entrusted, will be in the city tomorrow.

No information has been received at the State Department bearing out the press dispatches from Havana which relate the arrest and imprisonment, on the Isle of Pines, of two American men and one American woman for violating an old law in the erection of a toy telegraph line. In the absence of official information on the subject the State Department is inclined to the view that there is no truth in the story, or, at least, that it has been exaggerated and distorted beyond all recognition. No notice will be taken by acting Secretary Bacon on the matter unless the American minister at Havana shall report it.

Word was received at the Navy Department today that the United States cruiser Marblehead, aboard which the peace commissioners of San Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras will meet, has sailed from La Libertad for Acajutla, Salvador.

Advices were received by the State Department today stating that an armistice has been agreed upon by Guatemala, Salvador and Honduras, to take effect tomorrow afternoon. Efforts are being made by the three belligerents to get the news of the armistice to their respective armies at the front. All of the dispatches received from the scene of the trouble today by the State Department show a full willingness on the part of all the nations involved to cease fighting and settle their differences amiably by conference as suggested by President Roosevelt and Diaz.

That hundreds of Japanese have secured admissions to this country by intrigue during the last year has been proven to the satisfaction of the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, by a careful investigation into the subject. Incidentally agents assisting the immigrants have made large sums of money by charging "commissions" for their part in outwitting the law makers and executive officials.

A band of fifty dog-eating Igorrotes, brought to this country two years ago to be exhibited as samples of the wild men of the Philippine Islands, are having a hard time of it in this country attempting to get used to the canned meats of the Chicago packing houses, and will be rounded up by the authorities of the War Department and shipped back to their native country aboard a transport of the United States Government.

A crusade against gambling in the Philippines, conducted by an organization known as the Moral Progress League, has brought out a statement from Emilio Aguinaldo, the ex-dictator, who has allied himself with the reform forces of the archipelago, and has, furthermore, uncovered the existence of what is called the cockpit trust. "I am heartily in sympathy with the objects of the Moral Progress League," Aguinaldo is quoted as saying. "Cockpits and card-playing must go. Gambling, more than anything else, is the mother of crime in the Philippines. The fact is that gamblers have gone so far as to pawn their children and even their wives to pay debts contracted in play and in order to continue playing. I would go so far as to prohibit the importation of gaming cards into the islands." The cockpit trust is preparing to fight the Moral Progress League to the bitter end.

Louis A. Goudain, the Chicago banker, who wants the aid of the Supreme Court of the United States in breaking into the Illinois penitentiary, was heard from this morning A telegram from him was received at the office of the clerk of the court, asking that functionary to have the very best court stenographer in Washington meet him at the Raleigh Hotel in this city at six o'clock this evening. Although the request is a very unusual one, it will be complied with. Gourdain was recently sentenced to four and a-half years in the penitentiary for conducting a lottery in Chicago. Pending further arguments in his case, he was released from the Cook county jail in bonds of $10,000. He immediately presented himself at the Joliet penitentiary with the request that he be incarcerated and that his four and a-half year term begin at once. His request was denied, and he now wants the Supreme Court of the U. S. to see to it that the sentence is enforced. He has threatened to build a penitentiary of his own on some hillside and begin the service of his term there, if his demand is not granted. Gourdain is reputed to be very wealthy.

The coroner's jury in the cause of the wreck of the Plymouth steamer train at Salisbury, Eng., in which 27 lives were lost, gave a verdict yesterday that the disaster was due to high speed, and blame was attached to the company, as well as the engineer.

The new fourth class of midshipmen at the Naval Academy has been formed and the routine of academic life is now in force. The cadets from Virginia are Webster A. Capron, Fort Myer; Joseph M. Blackwell, Bethel Academy, and Valentine N. Bieg, Alexandria.

James Parker, a big negro, thought it funny to lure little Sammy Cohen up an alley in Baltimore yesterday and bite into his leg until he almost reached the bone. The negro had been in jail before for similar offenses, and so Justice Grannan this morning sentenced him to three years in jail.

Immediately following her interview with her son, Harry K. Thaw, in the Tombs yesterday, Mrs. Wm. Thaw assumed full charge of the defense and arranged to retain the services as counsel of the firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge, who were dismissed by young Thaw a few days ago.

John Johnson, who killed his wife in Yonkers, N. Y., May 15, 1905, because she refused to live with him on account of his cruelty, and who was to have been electrocuted in Sing Sing prison yesterday, has been granted a stay pending the disposition of his case by the United States Supreme Court.

State Highway Commissioner Wilson has informed the board of supervisors of Norfolk county that the convicts of the State could assist those of Norfolk county in the construction of a boulevard from Norfolk city to the Jamestown Exposition grounds. This will insure a magnificent highway from Norfolk to the exposition grounds.

On the heels of the voluntary confession, almost three weeks ago, by Charles W. McWhorter, assistant cashier of the Washington city postoffice that he was a defaulter to the government in the sum of $10,000, came the disclosure yesterday that a defalcation of about $17,000 has been discovered in the accounts of the late Major George Ansel Bartlett, who was for 25 years the chief disbursing officer of the United States Treasury and who died last February.

Virginia News.

A large, new barn on the farm of M. C. Leach, near Bayard, Warren county, was destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, late Sunday night. Farming implements and heavy machinery were destroyed. The loss is more than $5,000, with little insurance.

As the result of the employment in the Riverside cotton mills at Danville yesterday of a number of German immigrants, sixty of the weavers went out on a strike at dinner hour. While the introduction of the foreigners was not intended in any way to supplant any of the old men, the weavers considered it as a menace.

John W. Robinson died at his home, at Grahams Forge, Wythe county, yesterday, aged 69 years. He was one of the most widely-known business men in that section of Virginia, his business career commencing with the late David Graham, sr., one of the pioneer iron manufacturers in southwest Virginia. He was founder of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company.

Fire last night in Franklin destroyed considerable property. The scene of the conflagration is said to have been in the business section. The mayor of Franklin wired the Portsmouth fire department to come to the town with 1,000 feet of hose and as many men and apparatus as they could spare. The Seaboard Air Line made preparation to take the men to the scene on a special train, but a late message from Franklin stated that the fire was under control.

News was received at Danville yesterday of the suicide by hanging of Mrs. Daniel Jones, the wife of a well-known farmer of Axton, Henry county. She was between sixty and seventy years of age. The body was found dangling by a rope from one of the rafters in a room of the house. Mrs. Jones recently suffered an attack of heart disease, and brooding over her ill health is supposed to have developed the suicidal mania. Several days ago she made an attempt to hang herself by means of a pair of suspenders, which stretched and foiled her purpose.

The telegraph companies are to make answer before the Corporation Commission today why the new rates fixed by the commission should not become effective at once. This order was issued sometime ago. The proposed rates require that messages of 10 words and under shall be sent to any part of the State for 25 cents. The express companies have been cited to appear August 1, to show why the new express rates should not become effective. The new rates are much more favorable to shippers than the present rates. The new rates are simple and uniform and must be posted in every express office for the benefit of shippers.

Because she had refused to receive his attentions any longer, Rosa Lucas, a mulatto girl was killed at Roanoke yesterday by Alexander Perkins, colored. She was visiting the home of a friend when she was slain. As she was sitting by a window, Perkins stole in through the back of the house and stepping up behind her fired a bullet through her head. She died instantly. Perkins ran into the yard, where he dropped his pistol, and then made his escape. A posse on horseback went in pursuit, but returned without finding any trace of Perkins. John Perkins, a brother of Alex. Perkins, was arrested, charged with being an accomplice. It is alleged that John Perkins detained the woman until his brother arrived to kill her.

To Deliver up Securities.

New York, July 17.—Judge Ray, in the United States Circuit Court, today handed down a decision in the suit of the Delaware Securities Company, to compel the Metropolitan Trust Company, of this city, to deliver to the Securities Company proxies for voting 9,971 shares of the Laflin & Rand Powder Company; 7,000 shares of the Eastern Dynamite Company, and 10,000 shares of the Dupont Powder Company.

The claim of the Trust Company was that the stock of the two latter companies was not properly transferred, and this claim is upheld by Judge Ray. He decides that if within thirty days the Securities Company make proper delivery of this stock, the proxies shall be delivered by the Metropolitan Trust Co. Otherwise the Delaware Securities Company is not entitled to the proxies. The amount advanced by the Metropolitan Company on the stock was $4,000,000.

Fire and Loss of Life.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—Two men are dead and three are badly injured as the result of fire at 2 o'clock this morning in the Park Hotel, conducted by Daniel Brady, at Ross street and Second avenue. The fire originated from a gas jet in the rear of hallway and the whole of the rear portion of the building was in flames before they were discovered. All escape was cut off by means of the stairway the and exit of those imprisoned was through the second and third story windows, aided by firemen and police, and there were a number of thrilling scenes and narrow escapes. The fire was quickly extinguished and then the discovery was made that James Conway had been suffocated and badly burned in his room on the third floor. The building was old and had been used for hotel and saloon purpose many years. The damage to building and contents is about $12,000, which is covered by insurance.

Details of the Fighting.

New York, July 17.—Details of the fighting between Gautemala and Salvadorean troops have reached this city from San Salvadorean sources. Salvador, it is stated, though illy prepared for war, won every battle. The fighting was unusually hard for Central Americans as can be seen from the casualties. Salvador lost about 700 killed and 1,100 wounded. Guatemala had 2,800 killed and 3,900 wounded. General Regalado, it is stated, was killed while on a reconnoitering trip and while a mile in advance of his main army. He had but fifty men and officers with him and every man of them was killed. The advices state that Regalado and his men gave a good account of themselves before they were exterminated. After the main force came up and routed the Guatemalans more than 600 dead Guatemalans were found on the field. In that battle Salvador captured Guatemala's artillery. The result of this fight was that Guatemala asked for peace but Salvador refused. The two armies were face to face, prepared for more fighting when President Roosevelt's telegram was received and conditions changed. The armies are still in the field, awaiting peace developments.

Victory for New York Company.

Vienna, July 17.—The New York Life Insurance Company has won a signal victory in the higher courts here in a decision, which has just been rendered, holding that the company is not compelled to show the lists of its policyholders in Austria to persons insured in the company. The decision was given in the suit of a man named Kaesman, who sued the company to compel it to give him access to its lists of policyholders. His purpose was to secure the names of insured to agitate among them the election of certain directors. Kaesman won his suit in the lower courts but on appeal the company was victorious.

The Thaw Case.

New York, July 17.—Pending an important conference at 5 o'clock this afternoon between Mrs. William Thaw; her personal counsel, Louis A. Delafield, and former Judge Olcott, whose law firm was suddenly dismissed as counsel by Harry Thaw, the situation in the Thaw case is filled with uncertainty and various possibilities. Mrs. Thaw, mother of the prisoner, has indicated that she desires that the law firm of Black, Olcott, Gruder & Bonynge be re-engaged to defend her son. Friends of the Thaw family say the Thaws believed that the best solution of the whole case would be to have Thaw declared insane and sent to the asylum. Thaw has so far declared that he will not consent to the insanity plea.

The Hartje Case.

Pittsburg Pa., July 17.—Under the protests of Augustus Hartje's lawyer, many local bank clerks testified in court this morning for Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, in the divorce suit instituted by her husband, J. Scott Ferguson objected to the witnesses on the ground that they are not experts, but the court over ruled the objections. The witnesses all agreed that Mrs. Hartje has not written the "Dear Susie" letters, exhibit No 6, and that she did not write the address on No 27, the letter to Thomas Madine, on the envelope of which is the handwriting of Miss Ida Scott, Mrs. Hartje's sister.

Mutes Fight Duel.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 17.—A duel of an unusual nature with a fatal termination has been fought near Como. Both the duelists were deaf and dumb and their seconds in the encounter were similarly afflicted. The duel took place in a forest near Como. All the parties to the affair went to the spot in an automobile, wearing black masks on their faces. At twenty-five paces the duelists fired three shots. On of the men fell dead in his tracks. Not a word had been spoken during the whole procedure.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

Beattyville, Ky., July 17.—The jury in the trial of James Hargis and Ed. Callahan this morning, after having the case twenty-two minutes, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoners were discharged.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 17.—The market showed a fair amount of strength all through the first hour and the upward movement, which started after the opening yesterday, made further progress. The majority of the active issues made material gains. The trading element on the floor turned to the bear side this morning basing their action on the belief that nearly all the buying so far on the upward movement has been covering by shorts. Governments unchanged.

MORE TROUBLE IN ZION.

That Wilbur Glenn Voliva is having trouble in preserving his authority in Zion City, as was stated several days ago, and that a large proportion of the members of that community are hoping for the return of Dr. Dowie, was made clear Sunday when a more complete report of a secret meeting held in Zion on Thursday evening was made public.

The meeting was attended by the 300 Australians now in Zion, and although called by Voliva himself, its tone, it is declared, was far from favorable to that leader.

One of those who were present at the meeting declared in a letter sent to Dowie in Chicago yesterday that the Australians were informed that the church at their home had repudiated Voliva, and that they expressed themselves as needing the aid of Dowie in their hour of adversity.

Reports from Australia that Overseers J. C. McCullagh, and C. Friend, leaders of the church in that country, had repudiated Voliva, caused a good deal of murmurling in Zion, and the meeting was called to quiet the fears of the weak-hearted.

Voliva at the meeting declared that McCullagh was the biggest liar "that ever stepped in shoe leather," and stated that both McCullagh and Friend were wearing suits of clothes paid for by him.

Voliva admitted that in the last two months he had sent nearly $1,000 to McCullagh to be used for railway fares, and this action is resented by the citizens of Zion, who state that they have been unable to get a cent for their work while this money was being used by Voliva to make himself strong with the flock in Australia.

On top of the reports of the spread of dissatisfaction in Zion comes the declaration by Dowie that he is possessed of a tract of land 60,000 square miles in extent in the Gold Coast country of Africa. He states that he expects the revenue to be derived from this source will be more than sufficient to pay off all the indebtedness of Zion and place its institutions on a firm financial footing.

Old Yeocomico Church.

We have received an illustrated booklet containing a sketch of old Yeocomico Church, Westmoreland county. It is handsomely illustrated, and in addition to the discriptive matter there is an interesting article about the old people who worshipped there, from the pen of Rev. Dr. G. W. Beale, of Westmoreland. The celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of this church took place on Sunday, July 15th. Rev. Robt. A. Castleman preached the sermon in the morning and Rev. Albert R. Walker at night. The offerings were for the endownment fund.

The services extended through yesterday and today. The offerings at all the services will be devoted to an endowment fund, which has already reached several hundred dollars, contributed by people all over the country.

The old church is very popular, and during the past year has been well attended by persons of other communions. The present celebration is largely attended, and it is confidently believed that the purpose to procure $1,000 or $2,000 for a permanent repair fund will ce successful.

The Way to Peace.

The peace negotiations between Salvador and Guatemala arranged by President Roosevelt will likely take place abroad the cruiser Marblehead at sea, off La Liberted.

The gunboat Marietta was used some years ago for a similar purpose in settling the dispute between Costa Rica and Salvador.

President Cabrera has given assurance that Guatemala will refrain from farther hostilities if Salvador will do the same.

Salvador and Honduras have entered into an alliance to agree upon the terms of peace to be proposed to Guatemala.

Honduras insists upon being considered along with Salvador in the peace negotiations with Guatemala.

President Roosevelt has not offered himself as an arbitrator, but merely offered to exert his good offices to bring about negotiations.

Guatemala is fighting Salvador and Honduras at four points on Guatemalan and Honduran territory. Both sides fight bravely with uncertain results.

Miss Norma Munroe, of New York, denies that she is to marry Dudley Carter, the son of Mrs. Leslie Payne Carter, the actress.

Beer in Church Hallway.

When members of the Mount Zion Methodist Episcopal congregation at Conshohocken, Pa., opened the doors of their church Sunday preparatory to the Sunday school services, they were shocked to find a quantity of malt liquor in the hallway. The superintendent of the Sunday school took an inventory and he counted up five cases of beer, one of porter and one of carbonated beverages. Officer Heald was summoned and he hauled the drinks to the police slation. He then made an investigation, and learned that a driver of a beer wagon had made a mistake. Members of a social club had ordered the beverages late Saturday night, and the driver had mistaken the church for the clubhouse when he made the delivery. The beer was not turned over to the owners until yesterday.

The Valley Royal Arch Mason's School of Instruction is in session at the Elkton Hotel, Elkton. The lodge is composed of chapters in Staunton, Luray, Harrisonburg, Culpeper, Alexandria, Shenandoah, Edinburg, Covington, Clifton Forge, The Plains, Front Royal and Charlottesville. Several Alexandrians are in attendance.

Panic in a Church.

There was a panic in St. Gabriel's Catholic Church, Norwood, Pa., when a rafter holding the floor gave way Sunday, sending 300 worshippers cellarward. The Rev. John McGonigle, recently ordained as a priest, was celebrating mass. At the crash women ran this way and that, screaming at the top of their voices. Owing to the presence of mind of the rector, no one was hurt He called out to the congregation that there was no danger. He then asked the men members to ascertain the extent of the damage. This was done and the service continued. A rotted rafter caused the collapse.

Official.

County Assessor Waylaid.

J. W. Coulter, of Leslie S. D., Assessor of Stanley County, relates the following: "I was waylaid by a complication of throat and lung troubles, bronchitis, asthma and a terrible cough, which had affected me for years, when I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. Relief came almost immediately, and in a short time a permanent cure resulted." No other medicine compares with it as a sure and quick cure for coughs and colds. It cures after all other remedies have failed. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons', drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Heirs Divide Mother's Garters.

A bitter legal suit over a pair of silk garters trimmed with red ribbon bows has been settled by the award of one garter each to Lyman and Lena Raymond, brother and sister, at Pittsfield, Mass. The garters were the property of their mother and a dispute over them so disrupted the Raymond household that the matter was taken to court and it was referred to the board of arbitration.

The State Bar.

Death of Mr. Frank Hume.

Mr. Frank Hume, whose serious illness had from time to time during the past few months been mentioned in the Gazette, died at his residence in Washington at 2.25 o'clock this morning. The deceased had for a long time been a sufferer from a complication of diseases, and at the beginning of his last illness it was evident that the sands of life had nearly run. His condition fluctuated, however, at times cheering his watchful relatives and friends, and causing them to hope for the best. But these brief periods were almost immediately followed by alarming and significant changes in the patient's condition, until death closed the scene. Complete arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made. The remains will, however, be interred in Ivy Hill Cemetery, near this city. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Clement Brown and the Rev. Thomas W. Cooke, of Dayton, Ky., a son-in-law of the deceased.

Frank Hume was born in Culpeper county, Va., 63 years ago. During his boyhood days his father, who held an office in Washington during President Buchanan's administration, removed to this city and occupied a house on Queen street. Young Hume in the meantime became a clerk in the grocery store in Washington conducted by a man named Male, and continued in this avocation until the outbreak of the civil war when he went south and enlisted in a company of the Twenty-first Mississippi regiment, known as the "Vicksburg Southrons," which formed part of Barksdale's Brigade. Mr. Hume during the four years' conflict was a gallant soldier and at times was entrusted with important duties by his superior officers. He was wounded at the battle of Gettysburg. At the close of the war Mr. Hume returned to Washington, where by close attention to business and untiring energy he prospered and established a house which stands high in the commercial world. Many years ago Mr. Hume purchased "Warwick," the beautiful country seat in Alexandria county, which overlooks Washington, Alexandria, the Potomac and the surrounding country, He had from time to time added to the place until it has become one of the most attractive in this section. Mr. Hume looked upon the place as his "Abbotsford," and it was his delight to entertain his friends there in royal style. Mr. Hume had long been a prominent political figure in Virginia. He always manifested interest in local affairs and was for a long time chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria county, and devoted much of his time toward furthering the interests of his county. Mr. Hume was about twenty years ago elected a delegate from Alexandria city and county to the Virginia Legislature and served with satisfaction to his constituents. He later was a candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress from this district. For reasons which he announced at the time he subsequently entered the field as an independent candidate against General W. H. F. Lee. The latter was elected. Mr. Hume was re-elected Delegate to the Legislature a few years ago, and at the end of his term declined to stand for re-election. The deceased had throughout life been noted for his friendly and sympathetic nature and his acts of kindness—most of them of a substantial nature—were many. He leaves a widow and nine children—five sons and four daughters.

Fatal Accident to a Boy.

The first fatal accident in the new union yards north of this city occurred about four o'clock yesterday afternoon when R. E. Warfield, a thirteen-year-old boy, was knocked down by a train and terribly mangled, both legs and one arm being crushed. The unfortunate youth was later discovered and as soon as possible removed to the Alexandria Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. W. M Smith, the Washington Southern Railway Company's surgeon. The boy, however, was virtually dying and his death followed about six o'clock. Young Warfield, who lived with his parents at 129 north Payne street, had gone to the depot for the purpose of carrying his father's dinner, and while there was struck by a train. It is said that an engine and a long train of freight cars passed over him. Young Warfield's father was one of the first to reach him after the accident, and the terrible distress of the afflicted father caused many to turn their heads from the scene as he fondled the dying boy whose life's blood was dyeing the clothing of the parent. Conductor Warfield, father of the boy, recently fell from a car in the new union yard and was seriously injured.

Pettey-Strobel Wedding.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Strobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Strobel, of this city, and Mr. George Washington Pettey, of this city, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of St. Mary's Church, by Rev. Father Kelley. The bride was attended by Miss Alice Williams, and Mr. Richard M. Pettey served his brother as best man. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of this city and has a host of friends. The groom is a nephew of Fire Chief Pettey. He conducts a cigar and newsstand in this city, and is highly esteemed among his many friends. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony on the steamer for Norfolk from which place they will make a trip up the New England coast.

The Fourth of July Collision.

The first part of the investigation into the collision on July 4 between the steamers St. Johns and Jamestown about 15 miles down the Potomac, was concluded yesterday morning at the Georgetown custom house before Charles F. Wright and Edward White, of Baltimore, United States steamboat and navigation inspectors. Capt. Richards, of the St. Johns, gave a brief addition to his testimony of Saturday. All the evidence will be typewritten and in about a week the counsel will argue the case, Capt. Randall, of the Randall Steamboat Company, appearing for the St. Johns, and A. E. Brown for the Jamestown. It is announced that a decision cannot be expected for at least a month.

Personal.

Mrs. Henry K. Field, Miss Eleanor Field and Miss Marguerite Field are the guests of Mrs. George D. Hopkins, at her cottage at Emerson's Point, on Eastern Shore. She later will have Mr. B. Wheatley jr., and Miss Eva Taylor as her guests.

The announcement yesterday that Dr. Hugh McGuire had gone to Cambridge, Mass., is premature. The doctor will not leave before the first of August.

Miss Mary H. Taylor has gone to Rawley Springs to spend the summer.

The King George correspondent of the Fredericksburg Lance says: "Mr. W. A. Smoot, one of Alexandria's most prominent citizens, who has been looking after his large landed estates in King George, has returned."

Messrs Edward Lawler and Richard McMinnimum have gone to Fairfax Court House.

Mrs. Venie Cade, of 217 Gibbon street, and Master Noble Smith, of 503 Prince street, have gone to St. Mary's county for a month or six weeks' visit.

Mr. Harrison H. Dodge, superintendent at Mount Vernon, is a guest of Capt. Babbitt on the schooner Mount Hope on a trip from Baltimore to Bath, Me. The Mount Hope sailed from Baltimore Sunday.

Mr. Mahlon Milstead, of East St. Louis, Ill., is visiting his parents in this city.

Mrs. Walter Scott Passmore (nee Miss Edna Cook,) was operated upon at the Georgetown University Hospital on Thursday last. The operation, which was in every way satisfactory, was performed by Dr. Tabor Johnson. Mrs. Passmore's many friends will be glad to learn that her condition is favorable, and her speedy recovery assured.

Mr. Hugh Hazleton, of New York, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Leadbeater.

Mr. Andrew Schwarzman has gone to Philadelphia to spend a few weeks, and from there he will go to Atlantic City for the remainder of the summer.

Another Side-Wheeler.

The Times-Herald of Newport News says:

"So successful has the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company been with its new sidewheel steamer Jamestown, built at the local shipyard, the company has determined to build another vessel of the same class, it is reported, for service on the Potomac during the Jamestown exposition. The Jamestown is now being used as an excursion steamer running out of Washington and thousands of people are being carried daily on the broad decks of this fine boat. The company had the Jamestown built for use during the exposition but it has found that there is a demand for such a boat throughout the summer months in Washington. The officials of the company are well pleased with the Jamestown and the local yard stands an excellent chance of securing the contract to build the sister ship. Work could be started on the steamer late this fall and it could still be completed in time for use next spring."

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A white man, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $10.

Charles Phillips, colored, arrested by Officers Beach and Bell charged with being an accessory to the shooting of John Lewis, colored, was committed for a further hearing.

Richard Washington, colored, arrested by Officers Arrington and Henderson charged with destroying property of Washington Jackson, was released upon promising to pay the damages.

Lew Taylor, arrested by the same officer for a similar offense, was fined $5.

Electric Franchise Bids.

The joint committee on finance, light and general laws met in the Common Council chamber last night to consider the various bids for the electric light franchise submitted at the last meeting of Council. Several of the bidders were present and were heard in favor of their respective propositions, and Mr. Hugh Hazelton, a New York electrical expert, who has been retained by the city, was present to advise the committee. The meeting was not open to the public, and the report of the committee will not be made public until the next meeting of the City Council. Another meeting of the committee will be held tonight, when it is understood the committee will determine which of the bids submitted is the best from the city's point of view.

Two Hundred Miles in a Launch

Capt. A. J. Fair and Mr. George Ayers have arrived home after a long voyage in the new steam launch recently built at Baltimore for Mr. Ayers. The launch left Baltimore at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, arrived at Colonial Beach Sunday evening, left there at 4:27 yesterday morning and arrived at this port at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The launch is 22 feet long and 5 feet 6 inches beam. The trip down the bay and up the Potomac was without incident, the launch riding the seas gracefully and working satisfactorily.

Georgia Peaches North.

The Southern Railway is handling an immense amount of Georgia peaches to the northern markets, the season being at its height now. All day Sunday the fruit trains were being operated to this city on passenger train schedules, many of the trains running as sections of the regular passenger trains. On Saturday between thirty and forty train loads of fruit passed through the city going north. The heavy traffic is keeping the trainmen on a jump, and they are making all of the time just now they care to have.

Attractions at Luna.

With the coming of the famous Cazrab Circus the patrons of the new Ingersoll amusement resort were treated to a surprise they had not contemplated. Park employes, visitors, expert horsemen and many others have tried their level best to stay on the back of Maud, the bucking mule, but in every case has failed. She will let the would-be rider mount her spacious back, get nicely settled and then with a sudden jerk and plunge she throws her prospective horseman 30 or 40 feet behind her in the dust. Maud will be at Luna Park all this week. Other features of the noted circus aggregation are the midget ponies that can be carried under the arm of the circus manager. They perform many difficult feats on the revolving table. Rivela's Imperial Band has been reengaged for this week at Luna and will be heard afternoon and evening in the big musical shell. This is considered the banner band that has visited this park. One of the greatest battles ever witnessed in an amusement park will be the conflict on "Santiago Day," July 17th, at Luna Park, when the people will watch the attack upon the block house, the defense within and the terrific sham battle. Over $500 worth of fireworks will be used. New floral decorations have been added to the park within the past few days and it presents a truly beautiful picture to lovers of outdoor amusement resorts. The grounds have been beautified by many magnificent floral emblems on the spacious lawns and miniature parks that abound within the gates of Luna. All the 30 large attractions are now in full swing and the park is as perfect a place of amusement as one could find for many miles.

Scarcity of Ice.

An advance in the price of ice is to be made in Washington. At present the wholesale price of ice is 25 cents per hundred pounds, an advance of 5 cents per hundred over last year's scale. Beginning on Wednesday, another increase of 5 cents will be made, bringing the price of ice up to 30 cents per hundred, or 50 per cent. above last year's prices. No advance in price is to be made to the householder, however. To him the price will remain as it is now—at the rate of 40 cents per hundred. The increase in the wholesale price is justified by the American Ice Company by the statement that the company cannot afford to buy its ice in Maine at this year's prices and transport it to Washington at the rate of 25 cents per hundred, and that even at 30 cents there is no profit. It is intimated that another rise of 5 cents in the wholesale price may occur before the end of the season. The District Commissioners are proceeding vigorously against the drivers of the ice wagons who do not weigh the ice they sell. Arrests are made every day. Yesterday the driver of one of the American Ice Company's wagons forfeited $10 collateral rather than stand trial for not weighing the ice.

Attempted Suicide.

Detective Mullin, of Washington, and Officer Garvey, of this city, this morning arrested a colored woman named Viola Fleet, who is charged with stealing clothes in Washington. She was taken to the station house and turned over to Officer Roberts. The accused declared her intention to commit suicide before she was locked up, but nobody believed she had really formed such a resolve. Some time later Officer Roberts, while examining the cells, saw that the woman was really carrying out her threat. She had improvised a rope from her apron, had tied one end to the top of the cell door, made a noose out of the other into which she had placed her neck and was endeavoring to end life's troubles by choking herself to death. The officer, as quickly as possible, unlocked the door and "cut down" the would-be suicide. This he accomplished after difficulty, as the woman had formed a knot equal to that disposed of by Alexander the Great. Officer Roberts didn't cut it, however, but, using his main strength, rent it asunder.

Sultry Weather.

The weather yesterday was uncomfortably warm throughout, and the day was followed by a sultry night. The air was oppressive, zephyrs scarce and mosquitoes abundant. Conditions this morning had undergone no marked change, although there had been an early morning shower. Heavy rains, however, in the afternoon improved conditions somewhat. During these showers some of the streets were flooded. Vivid lightning and heavy thunder accompanied the rain.

Committed to Jail.

Charles Phillips, colored, was before the Police Court this morning charged with being an accessory to the shooting of John Lewis, also colored. The accused, while ready to answer unimportant questions propounded him, refused to reply to material queries. His contumaciousness caused Justice Caton to commit him to jail for 10 days after which time he will be again arraigned.

Struck by Lightning.

Mr John Latham, a young man of Mauchester, an employee in the railroad yards just north of this city was severely injured by lightning this evening during the thunder storm. Mr. Latham was in the act of using the telephone when the wires were struck some distance off and the electric current ran into the instrument. Mr. Latham's left ear was lacerated internally and he was otherwise painfully injured. He was hurriedly brought to the Alexandria Hospital where he was attended by Dr. Smith. The unfortunate man collapsed as he reached the hospital and shortly afterwards became partially unconscious.

Insurance Investigation.

Newark, N. J., July 17.—If any doubt existed as to the intention of the special Senate committee which has under consideration a revision of the insurance laws, of the State, to make the inquiry thorough, it was dispelled today by William T. Corbin, counsel for the committee announcing that an inquiry into the affairs of the Prudential Insurance Company had requested Uzal H. McCarter, President of the Fidelity Trust Company, and other officers of financial concerns with which the Preudential has relations, to testify to their connection with the company. He had been assured, he said, that they would do so. Mr. Fackler was the first witness called when the committee convened this morning.

REAL ESTATE.

The Easiest Way to Make Money

and the safest is to invest in real estate. The quickest way is to call at our office, or drop us postal, and permit us to show you our lists. We are in touch with the largest property owners, and have some fine bargains to offer.

If You Want to Rent a House

DON'T go all over the city "house hunting" but come to us and give us an idea of the kind of house you want. Ten chances to one we have it, but if we haven't our knowledge of real estate will enable us to give you some advice that will avoid the necessity of a systematic hunt. We make no charge for advice.

Fire Insurance.

We represent a number of fire insurance companies—not foreign ones, but the ones we consider the best in the United States. We do not pretend that our companies are the only good ones, but they are better in many respects than most others. Let us quote you rates before placing your insurance, and then we see that your policy never lapses.

Refused Blood Money.

In the Persian correspondence in the portion of the Red Book on foreign relations which was made public by the State Department yesterday is contained a strong protest addressed by Mrs. Mary Schauffler Labaree, formerly of Urumia, Persia, to American Minister Richmond Pearson, at Teheran, against the exaction by the United States government of an indemnity of $50,000 for the murder of her husband, Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, a missionary, killed on Mount Ararat by religious fanatics.

While believing that when an American citizen has been murdered because of the criminal laxness of a foreign government those dependent on him for support should receive a suitable indemnity, Mrs. Labaree made the following declaration:

"I believe that the great mission cause to which my husband and I dedicated our lives, and which has become ever dearer to me because of the terrible sacrifice I have been called upon to make for it, I believe that this may receive serious injury if my children and I accept an indemnity for this murder.

"The matter would not be understood by the great mass of people in this district who would inevitably know of it, as the Persian idea of blood money is so different from our civilized understanding of an indemnity. Thus serious and lasting injury might be done to the mission cause for which we have already sacrificed so much that I prefer to waive my rights as an American citizen rather than to see this cause suffer."

She further protested against the size of the indemnity, saying that, while her husband's life could not be measured in value by the standards prevailing in that country, which fixed the life of a christian at 88 tomans (dollars) and the maximum value of life of a Moslem at 1,000 tomans yet the disproportion between the sum demanded in this case with that of sums paid in similar circumstances by other governments was too great.

Mrs. Labaree asked that the strongest measures be taken by the United States government to see that if any indemnity was in the end exacted, it should not be extorted by the Persian government from the innocent people of the province where the murder occurred.

In spite of her protest, $30,000 was actually paid to her by Persia before the thirty days' period named by the ultimatum of the United States had expired. This sum was three times greater than the maximum ever before paid by the Persian government for the murder of a private person.

Minister Pearson obtained a promise that the money should not be levied under under any guise of special tax from the inhabitants of the province.
